

BIKE THE EARTH

"Life is like riding a bicycle - in order to keep your balance - you must keep moving."

Albert Einstein

*"I worked in Kenia on sand-dams, in Suriname on soil fertility practices and in Central Asia on sustainable household technologies.
All these countries I explored also by bike and realized how cycling and inspiring people could go together"*

Fedde Jorritsma worked 4 years as trainer for WECF in Central Asia on practical solutions for sustainable living including ecological sanitation, solar collectors, solar dryers, drilling wells and hand-pumps.

The organization 'Bike the Earth' is initiated by Chris Le Breton who facilitated many environmental projects around the world. In July 2010 a small group of enthusiastic people started cycling from New Zealand towards Europe. On the way they inspire people for sustainable living through professional trainings at transition-towns, eco-villages and environmental organizations. The route is depending on demand and practical considerations. Everybody who is motivated can join the group, learn, cycle and share knowledge & skills.

Every week we intend to cycle 300-500 km, give one day training and different seminars. We expect to spend about 120 EURO per person each week. Therefore we ask for a free contributions of participants and looking for sponsors.
